the new media technocultures reader presents key texts which encapsulate and or challenge and extend the issues debates and theoretical positions that do the most work in mapping and critically addressing the cultural implications of new media

this book is the first to explore technoculture in all of don delillo s novels from americana 1971 to the silence 2020 the american author anatomizes the constantly changing relationship between culture and technology in overt and layered aspects of the characters experiences through a tendency to discover and rediscover technocultural modes of appearance delillo emphasizes settings wherein technological progress is implicated in cultural imperatives this study brings forth representations of such implication interaction through various themes particularly perception history reality space architecture information and the posthuman the chapters are based on a thematic structure that weaves delillo s novels with the rich literary criticism produced on the author and with the various theoretical frameworks of technoculture this leads to the formulation and elaboration on numerous objects of research extracted from delillo s novels namely the theorization of delillo s radiance in dailiness the investigation of various uses of technology as an extension the role of image technologies in redefining history the reconceptualization of the ethical and behavioral aspects of reality the development of tele visual and embodied perceptions in various technocultural spaces and the involvement of information technologies in reconstructing the beliefs behaviors and activities of the posthuman one of the main aims of the study is to show how delillo s novels bring to light the constant transformation of technocultural everydayness it is argued that though such transformation is confusing or resisted at times it points to a transitional mode of being this transitional state does not dehumanize delillo s characters it reveals their humanity in a continually changing world moving from web to field from victorian parlor to 21st century mall the 15 essays gathered here yield new insights regarding the intersection of local culture musical creativity and technological possibilities inspired by the concept of technoculture the authors locate technology squarely in the middle of expressive culture they are concerned with how technology culturally informs and infuses aspects of everyday life and musical experience and they argue that this merger does not necessarily result in a cultural grayout but instead often produces exciting new possibilities in this collection we find evidence of musical practices and ways of knowing music that are informed or even significantly transformed by new technologies yet remain profoundly local in style and meaning contributors leslie c gay jr kai fikentscher tong soon lee rené t a lysloff matthew malsky charity marsh marc perlman thomas porcello andrew ross david sanjek jonathan sterne janet l sturman timothy d taylor paul théberge melissa west deborah wong ebook edition note four of the 26 illustrations and the cover illustration have been redacted
